EVIDENCES OF HIS SUCCESS IN CURING
CATARRH,
And other Chronic Diseases that have Resisted the Ordinary Modes of Treatment.

ON
[DISEASE TENDING TO CONSUMPTION.]
This is a chronic affection of the mucous membrane of the nostrils of the throat, originating in irritation or inflammation, and attended by more or less discharge. It is one of the most common, most disgusting, and finally most destructive of diseases incident to the variable climate of our northern latitude.
In its early stages catarrh fails to attract the patient's attention, solicitations to its approach. This is an unfortunate circumstance, because the most favorable period for treatment is thus unimproved, and because of the peculiar disposition of this disease to extend upward to the frontal sinuses, backward through the Eustachian tubes to the middle ear, and down through the larynx, trachea, and bronchia, to the air-cells of the lungs.
The discharge from the affected part is at first a clear fluid, which may escape observation, unless it chance to be of a more than usual acrid character. As time goes on this gives place to a fluid that is thicker, and of a yellowish green color, and still later this may be succeeded by thick flakes or scales.
In all the more advanced stages the discharges are generally of an offensive odor, causing great annoyance to one's friends and to the patient himself, while his sense of smell remains. This annoyance from the odor becomes almost beyond endurance, when, as sometimes happens, the delicate bones of the nose become diseased.
Some cases early assume the character of Dry Catarrh. There is then a feeling of an enclosed, heat and stiffness in the nostrils, which are often (one or both of them) closed by thickening of the mucous membrane, and thus a difficulty of breathing becomes a prominent symptom.
On examining the nostrils in Chronic Catarrh, with instruments specially adapted to that purpose, we find their lining membrane thickened and of a deeper color than in health. There are seen little points of ulceration, upon which the secretion becomes hardened and firmly crusts. When these are picked off the diseased surface is irritated, and frequently bleeds profusely.
In each case of Catarrh the prominent symptoms are determined by the direction in which the disease extends. If this be upward there may be pain over and between the eyes; obstruction of the lachrymal ducts, causing the tears to flow over the cheeks, and possibly ophthalmia—inflammation of the eyes. If backward, there will be thickening of the walls of the Eustachian tubes, and consequent tendency to their obstruction, inflammation of the middle ear, buzzing sounds in the head, and impairment of hearing. When the extension is downward, the voice becomes hoarse or whispering and unmanageable; cough comes on, with expectoration and emaciation, to be followed too often by Consumption and Death.
In cases where the bones of the nose become diseased, not only is the offensiveness of the breath increased, but there is a liability to serious personal deformities, among which are flattening of the nose.
The swallowing of catarrhal secretions deranges the functions of the stomach, causing indigestion, and loss of appetite. Debility, paleness, lassitude, headache and disturbance of mind soon follow. In some instances the mental affection is one of irritability, the patient being suddenly annoyed by all the little perplexities of life. In others, the prominent feeling is that of the melancholy or depression of spirits, when the invalid can see no hope for himself or his offers.
Allusion has been made to the extension of Catarrh by continuity of surface along the natural air passages to the substance of the lungs; thus causing Consumption and Death. In this connection it should also be remembered that the air which enters the lungs of a catarrhal patient is, every breath of it, poisoned by exhalations from the foul secretions of the diseased surface. By such air the blood cannot be properly purified and made fit to impart healthy vigor to its according circuit to all and every part of the animal mechanism. One would suppose that this consideration alone would be sufficient to induce every person thus afflicted to make early application for relief.
The treatment of Catarrh is in part constitutional, whereby the energies of the whole system are called to aid in expelling its destructive enemy. It is in part local, whereby the discharge is made less offensive, diminished and finally arrested, and whereby the ulcerated surface is healed and restored to its normal condition.
By means of new and ingenious apparatus, Dr. Aborn is able to Catarrh and all other affections of the respiratory organs, to apply his remedies directly to the desired localities. Treatment is thus made more efficient as well as less disagreeable. In many cases the first applications of the topical treatment will change the character of the disease and materially purely the breath.

A FEW REMARKS ON DISEASES OF THE EAR.
It is a well known fact that Diseases of the Ear are among the most frequent and most tedious affections to which the human system is exposed, and that Deafness, or impairment of the hearing, is a lamentable misfortune, alike to the public instructor, the military officer, and the government official, as each is obliged to yield his position to another. Equally unfortunate is the loss of hearing to mothers, who have the moral correction of the speech of offspring; and to that offspring in after life, thus cut off from the principal source through which both moral training and intellectual development are conveyed. And yet this function of hearing—the most useful and pleasure-giving of all our senses—is frequently sacrificed by want of attention to the early symptoms of disease, when judicious treatment could readily effect a cure.
True, treatment is often deferred because there is no manifest pain, and hence no danger is anticipated; or because patients are taught by physicians to believe that their disease is not remediable; or because this department of medicine has been neglected, and physicians, though skilled in other departments, know but little of aural surgery, and hence patients are generally discouraged by them.
In our increased and extended anatomical and physiological knowledge, all just grounds for want of confidence now have entirely ceased to exist, as no department in medical science, is more thoroughly and successfully treated than is this branch by Dr Aborn.
The number of ear patients is constantly increasing with the increase of population, as they originate in so many diseases incident to childhood—as measles, scarlet fever, whooping-cough, &c., &c.
The latter disease is particularly prone to give rise to affections of the ear. Among the most troublesome (besides impairment of hearing) is one called otorrhœa, "a running from the ear," not strictly a disease, but a symptom of a diseased condition, which often becomes exceedingly offensive.
If this discharge continues without limit, which it is prone to do, it is liable to destroy the "drum" and delicate ossicles of the ear, and finally to produce caries of the bony walls. The popular notion that stopping this discharge endangers some other organ, or the life of the patient, should be corrected. There is far more peril in letting it alone than in curing it. While it continues, the discharge is a constant drain upon the constitution; but the health, on the contrary, is vastly improved by its eradication. Its persistence often induces a scrofulous diathesis in the system.
Certainly, it is safe to change that morbid condition; to improve the general system; to remove the cause of disease, and the effect then ceases without danger. Nay, more: in the cure of otorrhœa, as in croup, or a "running from the nose," the consumptive tendency is also cured. Thus rational cure never substitutes one disease for another—never compromises the laws of life.
Now, in order to eradicate this common prejudice, and disprove the false conceptions of both patient and physician, I have repeatedly published, during series of years, certificates of cures of deafness, and from persons of high social, clerical and political position, so as many indisputable facts of the success of my improved method of treating cases of ear disease, often of seemingly hopeless character.

EVIDENCES OF HIS SUCCESS IN CURING
CATARRH,
And other Chronic Diseases that have Resisted the Ordinary Modes of Treatment.

Letter from B. P. Murdock, Esq., Editor of the San Jose Daily Patriot.
SAN FRANCISCO, CAL., NEW YEAR'S DAY, 1871.
DR. ABORN, San Francisco—Dear Sir: I have felt that our business and social relations for the last ten months were of such a character as to warrant me in addressing you this testimonial in behalf of my esteem for you, professionally and socially. Your remarkable success in the treatment of my son, Frank, a youth just entering on manhood, who had been afflicted for some time with an obstinate catarrh and throat disease, was but an additional proof of the distinguished reputation you had achieved in your profession before your advent on California, and disposed me to repose that confidence upon your scientific skill in the treatment of your specialties, which was so fully sustained by the success of your prescriptions in all cases under your treatment in this city and neighborhood.
Allow me, also, to express my thanks for the liberal and gentlemanly spirit you displayed in all of our business relations. As the proprietor of the San Jose Daily Patriot, I published for you many advertisements, all of which were promptly paid for, and in a manner peculiarly agreeable.
I do not know whether this letter will be of any use to you, but I have felt impelled to write it, as well as to assure you of my sincere esteem and cordial wishes for your happiness and prosperity.
Respectfully yours, etc.,
F. B. MURDOCK,
Editor and Proprietor San Jose Daily Patriot.

Letter from Wm. B. Lake, Esq.
SAN FRANCISCO, January 19, 1871.
DR. ABORN—Dear Sir: Permit me to add my testimony to the numerous public assurances you have received while here, of your skill and success in the treatment of those diseases which you make specialties in your practice.
My boy, now eleven years of age, had been seriously troubled for several years with catarrh, when put under your treatment; when he was immediately relieved, and has been steadily improving ever since, until now he seems almost entirely recovered, and we feel we owe to your skill his rapid convalescence, and I assure you your name will ever be held in grateful remembrance by your young patient, and his parents and friends.
Yours respectfully, WM. B. LAKE.

LAW OFFICE OF R. P. & JAMES CLEMENT
No. 51 Exchange Building,
SAN FRANCISCO, CAL., January 22, 1871.
DR. ABORN—Dear Sir: Understanding that you are about terminating your residence and practice in this city, I have thought that possibly you might be pleased to know that the little school girl, Mary Morris, whom you treated some months ago at my request, and who, you will remember, was nearly deaf and seriously afflicted with some bronchial trouble when she went to you, is now ENTIRELY CURED, both of deafness and bronchial affection, and declares that she was virtually cured on her first visit to you. She and her parents are very grateful to you and think that it is wholly due to your skill that her hearing and health are restored.
Yours truly, R. P. CLEMENT.

Card from Charles N. Fox, Esq.
[Office of Campbell, Fox & Campbell, Attorneys and Counselors at Law. No. 523 California street.]
SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 17th, 1872.
Were it not for the good which I hope it may have done to suffering humanity, by introducing them where they could find relief, I should regret having given Dr. Aborn my little testimonial of the tenth of January, for the demands made upon my time, in answering inquiries in regard to him, have been more numerous than profitable to me, and still they come.
To save the necessity for further personal application, let me say to those who care for my opinion, that time has only strengthened my first favorable opinion of Dr. Aborn, and my confidence in the permanency of the cure effected by him. All my difficulty arose from catarrh, which had become of a serious character, affecting the hearing and the throat, giving most times acute pains, and at others rumbling sounds in the ears, frequent headaches, and so seriously affecting the bronchial tubes as to sometimes disable me from public speaking. It is also gone, and the change was produced, not by any species of charlatanism, as many suspect of the Doctor, nor by the absurd practice of putting medicines into the stomach which was not affected, but by the skillful application of medicinal remedies directly to the parts which were diseased. I have found the Doctor a gentleman in his intercourse and business, and the judgment that I have formed of him professionally is, that he is a regular physician, thoroughly acquainted with the anatomy of the human body, and possessing a remarkable degree of skill in the treatment of those diseases which he makes his speciality.

Another Wonderful Cure of Asthma and Bronchitis, after all other Methods had Failed.
SAN JOSE, March 5, 1870.
This is to certify that I have been afflicted for over three years with Asthma and Bronchitis, and had tried every means in my power to get a cure, and was told by my family physician (an honest and good doctor) that I could not be cured; and I became so weak that I could scarcely walk up a flight of stairs, and I happened to see a card from Lawyer Houghton, stating that he was being treated by Dr. Aborn, No. 632 Kearny street, San Francisco, and was getting great relief, and I thought I would go and see the Doctor; but I had little hope of getting relief, much less a cure. That was about the fifteenth of January, 1870, and to-day I claim to be a well man. I am fifty-nine years old. My mother and sister died with the same disease. I send this card, unsolicited, to Dr. Aborn, thinking that it might meet the eye of some of my acquaintances that might be suffering in the same way.
J. W. HARDWICK.

Has WONDERFUL SUCCESS in curing CHRONIC DISEASES after the usual routine of the profession have failed, and the many testimonials in his possession from prominent and influential men, who are well known will substantially prove.

DR. ABORN does not subject his patients to any painful or unpleasant operations; his treatment is mild, and safe for the most delicate child. The afflicted are hereby informed, that after the first visit, for many of the diseases which he makes a speciality, they can take the treatment home and see it until cured, without pain or interruption to their usual avocation.

PARIS, August 13.—The press generally contend that the vote in the Assembly yesterday is a success for the advocates of the prolongation of Thiers' power, as the right was desirous of postponing the question indefinitely.

Another Letter from the Pope.

ROME, August 13.—An encyclical letter has been issued by the Pope urging the faithful to offer prayers for the freedom of the Holy See and the triumph and tranquility of the church.

Rumors from London.

LONDON, August 13.—An improbable rumor is afloat to night that Victor Emanuel has offered to restore the quirinal to the Pope and enter into league with France and Spain to secure perfect independence.

A Constantinople dispatch contradicts a rumor of the death of the Grand Vizier which prevailed last week.

Success of the U. S. Loan.

LONDON, August 13.—The mission of the U. S. Treasury agents to Frankfort has been fulfilled. The whole amount remaining of the new loan, one hundred and thirty millions, has been placed on the terms fixed by the Government.

Bismarck will be present at the meeting between the two Emperors.

Great Meeting in London.

LONDON, August 13.—There was a meeting in Hyde Park to-day, to protest against the suppression of the Phœnix Park meeting in Dublin on Sunday last. It was an immense affair, and attended by 20,000 people. Speeches were made from six different stands. There were Communist and American flags and banners with Fenian harps and suitable mottoes. Among the speakers were Mr. Brady and other well known Radicals. The crowd was of a better class than usually assemble on such occasions; it was orderly and made no demonstrations of sympathy with the speakers.

WASHINGTON CITY.

Internal Revenue Matters.

WASHINGTON, August 13.—The recent decision of Commissioner Pleasanton, relieving bankers from the payment of a tax on borrowed capital, has been officially reached only in one district, the 82d New York. As soon as Douglas, the present Commissioner, can be officially advised by the proper officers of the receipt of the communication, it will be recalled. As the case now stands there is no change in the old decision and the tax on borrowed capital will be collected as heretofore.

The names of W. G. Avery, Chief of Appointment Division of Internal Revenue, and General Averill are mentioned for filling the vacancy of Deputy Commissioner caused by the promotion of Douglas.

The next crop report of the Department of Agriculture will not be published until September. Returns, recently received, show that the crops are in better condition than was reported in July, including corn and cotton.

EASTERN STATES.

Death of Mrs. Vallandigham.

CUMBERLAND, Md., August 13.—Mrs. Vallandigham, widow of the late C. L. Vallandigham, died in this city this morning.

Kentucky Election.

LOUISVILLE, August 13.—The official returns from 84 counties give Leslie (Dem.) 10,443; Harlan (Rep.), 74,124. Leslie's majority in these counties is 36,319. Full returns will probably bring Leslie's majority up to 40,000. In the 84 counties given Leslie gains 5,391 on the vote in the last gubernatorial race, and Harlan gains 50,310 on the vote for Baker (Rep.) in the last gubernatorial race.

The Workshop of the World.

[From the New York Tribune.]

The census returns for the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland furnish some figures which, when analyzed and compared, are profoundly suggestive. To the humanitarian they are even pathetic; to the political economist they are startling in interest.

As compared with the census of 1861, the population return, in 1871 is as follows:

		Persons.	Males.	Females.
England and Wales	1871	22,704,108	11,080,603	11,623,505
	1861	20,066,224	9,779,250	10,288,974
Scotland	1871	3,358,813	1,601,023	1,750,980
	1861	3,062,294	1,448,348	1,612,446
Ireland	1871	5,402,759	2,634,123	2,768,636
	1861	6,795,307	3,367,370	3,951,190
United Kingdom	1871	31,475,680	15,276,150	16,199,321
	1861	28,927,825	14,063,477	14,864,008

By this table it appears that the United Kingdom has gained but about two and a half millions in population during ten years. To be sure, England has increased 2,637,684 in that time, and Scotland has added to its population 296,319; but this margin of gain is drawn upon to sustain a loss of 396,208 in Ireland; so that the United Kingdom as a whole has gained only 2,537,995. The population of Ireland in 1871 is no larger than it was in 1801; and is 2,819,905 less than in 1841. These figures find their only explanation in the misgovernment of that unhappy island.

But in England itself there are facts and figures drawn from official returns which ought to startle the managers of the workshop of the world. The policy of these statesmen has, for generations, been that of forcing raw materials into the English market and manufactured goods into ruinous competition with those of every other mart in the world. Free trade has had its way in England; but though its goods go all over the globe, its own people fail to thrive upon its extended commerce and home consumption slowly diminishes. In 1858 England exported cotton goods to the value of £43,001,328, and year by year the amount increased, until in 1861 it was £46,872,480; and in 1869, £67,159,064; the increase in the four years ending with 1869 over the four years ending with 1861 was £20,207,449. But during the four years ending with 1869 the home consumption of cotton goods diminished from £17,980,686 to £8,501,739, this last amount being the total value of goods retained for home consumption in that year. It cannot be pretended that this is the result of any necessary curtailment of the cost of living. Look at this tabular statement of the amount expended for wines, spirits, and malt liquors in those four years:

1866	£113,926,458	1869	112,385,605
1867	110,722,555
1868	113,464,874	Total	£450,393,291

In the midst of the misery and want of the English people, who spend but about eight dollars for cotton goods for each man, woman, and child, of the United Kingdom, in four years, there is spent seventy dollars for drink. It is surprising that there is so real want in a country where the quantity of beer, wine, and strong spirits consumed, year by year, is constantly increasing while the amount of wearing material consumed steadily diminishes? To-day England and Wales alone support more than a million paupers, saying nothing of the wretched thousands in Ireland and Scotland. And this great army of miserable poor is drawn from the toiling mass of the workshop of the world. England is proving that to flood the globe with manufactured goods, to absorb the raw products of all climes, is not to enhance a nation's real prosperity, nor make a people truly great. It will be well if a more dreadful lesson does not yet remain.

"One should think," said a friend to the celebrated Dr. Samuel Johnson, "that sickness and the view of death would make men more religious." "Sir!" replied Johnson, "they do not know how to go about it." A man who has never had religion before, no more grows religious when he is sick, than a man who has never learned figures can count when he has need of calculation."

The new College building at Monmouth will be ready for occupation by Christmas next.

LAST NIGHT'S DISPATCHES.

[SPECIAL DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN.]

BY ATLANTIC CABLE.

The Hyde Park Meeting.

NEW YORK, August 14.—A London special of the 13th says: The meeting at Hyde Park to-day to protest against the brutality of the police at the Dublin riots, was insignificant. At the hour of meeting a band, with twenty men and about 1,000 juvenile regardless, marched into the Park bearing the flag of the Red Republic. One man carried a red flag, with a blue and white checkerboard in the upper corner, and wore a cap with green ribbons. Some quarreling took place among the leaders as to the cause of the meeting. There were also other evidences of division among them.

The Riot at Londonderry.

DUBLIN, August 13.—The excitement in Londonderry is not abated to-day. A large number of apprentices, consisting in part of boys from 12 to 18 years of age, arranged an Orange demonstration. They were headed by Johnson, member of Parliament, and Mr. Rear of Belfast. The apprentices attempted to form a procession in violation of the proclamation issued by the authorities, but the police, aided by a detachment of the troops, interfered amid the yells and cheers of the Roman Catholics. Stones were thrown by the rioters at one another and the police and military. The riot act was read without effect. The cavalry and police then charged and scattered the crowd. Several were injured, but none killed. A number of arrests have taken place. Order was completely restored.

Spanish Affairs.

MADRID, August 13.—It is reported on good authority that Capt. Gen. Baldrick will remain as Viceroy in Porto Rico, in spite of rumors to the contrary.

The imprisoned Gen. Puenzal, charged with conspiracy against the Government, has been returned for the second time as a Deputy to the Cortes.

France and Italy.

LONDON, August 13.—It is reported in Rome that Visconti has ordered Vibra to express to Thiers his satisfaction at his (Thiers') pacific and conciliatory words, but also his surprise that the President should permit speakers to use language injurious to Italy. Liberal journals in Rome express the readiness of Italy to accept an alliance with France, if the latter will abandon all negotiations relative to the Pope.

EASTERN STATES.

Napoleon Hunting for a Place of Retreat.

NEW YORK, August 14.—The World says it is understood that previous to the fall of the French Empire at Sedan Napoleon was in negotiation with Richard Schell of this city for the Jamiel estate, which he proposed to use for a residence in case of the loss of much of his property. The loss of much of his wealth by the war forced him to look for a retreat of more moderate dimensions. He is, therefore, treating with Sam'l. L. M. Barlow for the Burton Kinnicard estate at Glenmore, for which it is expected he will have to pay $500,000 coin. Meantime ex-Queen Christina of Spain is negotiating with Schell for the Jamiel estate for $450,000.

Fire in Jersey City.

NEW YORK, August 14.—An explosion, followed by fire, occurred last night at the liquor store of Thomas Bohaney, Montgomery street, Jersey City. The fire spread rapidly. The following stores were completely destroyed: Dunancy & McGee, liquor and fruit; A. H. Wilson, real estate office; Abraham S. Pool, watches and jewelry; J. W. Elliot, stationery, and Mrs. Hickes, dry goods. The cause of the explosion, which carried the doors and windows of the liquor store one hundred yards is unknown. Hank Smith and family occupied apartments above the store. Mrs. Smith was burned to a crisp and one other woman is missing. Mary Martin jumped from a window and broke her leg. Total loss, $70,000.

WASHINGTON CITY.

The New Loan.

WASHINGTON, August 14.—According to the arrangement for the disposition of two hundred million dollars of the loan, the negotiator is not bound to subscribe for more than ten million dollars for this month; it is indicated, however, that at least thirty million dollars will instead be taken, and appearances are that the balance will be absorbed much more rapidly than at the rate of five million dollars monthly. The facts upon which these statements are founded, concern operations of combinations of brokers engaged in the transactions, and cannot be made public without permission of some one of the parties.

CALIFORNIA.

From San Francisco.

SAN FRANCISCO, August 14.—Arrived—Steamer Constantine, Portland; Sacramento, from Panama and Mexican coast and Gulf ports. The Constitution has an immense freight and unusually large number of way passengers. Among the latter are N. Fenochio, Collector of the port of Guaymas, and C. Chavers, member of the Mexican Congress.

George D. Trent, a negro lately employed at the postoffice, who is charged with opening letters and stealing $220, was arrested at Chicago while on route East and brought back here. He will be tried next week.

The injunction on sale of City Hall lots on Yerba Buena plaza, by which the sale to-day was stopped, will be heard on appeal in the Supreme Court in two weeks. The sale is postponed nominally for that time.

Quite was the fancy in the Stock Board to-day. In the afternoon it was run up to 30 before the Board, and 33 on the street, sellers a year, was being offered, and offers made to sell it at 28, sellers 3 years.

The fair to-day is not largely attended. Every department now is complete, and catalogues will be ready in a day or two.

The tax payers' ticket will probably be announced to-morrow or Wednesday.

SAN FRANCISCO, August 14.—The bark Joan of Arc has arrived, 24 days from Tahiti; oranges to Freman, Smith & Co.

Mrs. Stanton is speaking this evening to a moderately full house.

The first political conflict of the campaign occurred this afternoon. Capt. Jack Monroe, Democrat, and Major Jack Strattman, Republican, met on Montgomery street this afternoon, near California street, and high words passed about political matters. Strattman spat in Monroe's face. Monroe stepped his in return, when Strattman "sailed in," giving him a severe beating. Both were arrested for fighting on the street.

The police arrested Thomas Brown this afternoon for selling tickets of an interior State lottery.

The Pneumatic Gas Company, which lighted up Gilroy Saturday, and is to light up Sacramento this winter, made a superb display at the Pavilion this evening.

In San Francisco, August 14.—Aaron's shoe store on Kearney street caught fire mysteriously this evening, soon after it had been closed. Well insured.

INTERIOR CALIFORNIA DISPATCHES.

SUTTER CREEK, August 14.—A very large and enthusiastic Republican meeting is being addressed by Booth and Eastman. It is the largest ever held in this place.

Tammany and the "Times."

[From Theodore Tilton's Golden Age.]

On the 8th of July the Times opened a broadside against the city government in an expose, several columns in length, of what it called "Gigantic Frauds in the Rental of Armories;" showing that exorbitant prices had been paid for regimental headquarters; that thousands of dollars had been squandered for hire of halls and unoccupied rooms; and that over 80 per cent. of the money had been stolen.

On the 20th of the same month, the Times resumed the battle in an elaborate financial exhibit called "Proofs of Theft," consisting of figures from Comptroller Connolly's books, showing that almost a million dollars had been spent in keeping a few armories in ordinary repair; and directly and by name charging Mr. Connolly and also Mr. Hall, the Mayor, with swindling. Furthermore the Times said explicitly, "If Mayor Hall and Comptroller Connolly object to being branded as thieves and swindlers, as we once more brand them now, they can sue us for libel, and we will prove our charges in a Court of Law. What is more, we will prove our charge by means of Comptroller Connolly's own books. It will not do for Hall to try and sneak out by saying that he is used to newspaper attack. We do not attack him now on political grounds, or in wild language—but we call him a thief because we can prove him to be one."

Since the Times flung at the Comptroller and the Mayor the above dreadful indictment, the same journal has been publishing—at great length, and with startling effect—whole pages of items taken from the Comptroller's books, showing that five millions of dollars have been paid in two years for the mere furniture of the county offices alone, and that during the same period nearly three millions have been paid for mere alterations and repairs in these offices.

We are compelled to go to press during the continuance of these interesting and astonishing disclosures. At this moment, while the smoke is so thick, we do not see the end of the battle. But it looks as if the Times, like a young Hercules strangling the snakes, had one hand on the throat of the Comptroller and the other in the hair of the Mayor. If there is any public spirit left in New York, either on the part of the government or of the citizens, the government must vindicate itself, or the citizens should turn and rend it.

Mayor Hall, smarting under the sting of the Times, has published a letter of defence. But this defense practically admits the truth of the indictment. He speaks of the claims as "very large and perhaps exorbitant." The World makes a similar admission, and says, "Mayor Hall's letter seems to concede that under the old order of things, the Comptroller paid some questionable claims." The Mayor, and the organ of the Democratic party in this city, thus acknowledge the essential points in the accusation made by the Times.

The Daily Oregonian.

TUESDAY MORNING, AUGUST 15, 1871.

Return of Judge Williams.

The arrival of ex-Senator Williams by the steamer last evening was an event which was noticed by not a few who retain an appreciative recollection of his services for his State and for the whole country during his Senatorial term. His name is inseparably connected with most of the leading measures for the pacification of the country and the settlement of the troublesome political questions resulting from the war, and later, with the settlement of the disputes between this country and Great Britain, now about to be happily consummated. He has had the satisfaction of seeing his political opponents forced by the irresistible pressure of public opinion to adopt the very policy for the development of the railway system of the State which they maligned and traduced him for introducing; and in common with all leading Republicans who had a part in establishing the Constitutional Amendments, the doctrine of civil rights and the principle of impartial suffrage, he sees his political opponents who denounced him for his agency in these matters compelled to accept results which he did as much as, or more than, any other man to achieve, and to promise by their "new departure" that they will not disturb them. The people of Oregon may be assured that his efforts will still be devoted to the interests of the State and of the country at large.

The Centenary of Walter Scott.

Pigmies are pigmies still, though perched on Alps, and pyramids are pyramids in vales.

To-day, August 15, is the centenary of Sir Walter Scott. Time clears away a great many delusions, and at last assigns to each celebrated man his real station among all the world's celebrities. As a literary character Lord Byron had at one time a larger share of popular applause than Walter Scott. At a later day Scott's fame as a novelist seemed about to be surpassed by that of Dickens, who for twenty-five years delighted all who read the English tongue. A multitude of other writers, contemporaneous with Scott and since his time, have had their share of public favor, but the general judgment has settled upon the author of Waverly as the most eminent literary character of the present century. And his fame, as Tacitus said of Agricola, grows, and will grow through all ages.

Very many eminent literary men have manifested marked blemishes of personal character. They are few, indeed, who in all the relations of life have stood pure and unsullied. But to Scott's literary accomplishments there was added a moral greatness which made his character complete and supplied all that was requisite to perpetuate a pure and undying fame. He used the gift of genius, as too few have done, to stimulate admiration for all great and noble traits of character. Nothing low or sordid manifests itself in his admirable compositions. He is well said of him that he was distinguished above all other story-writers by the greatness of the transactions in which his characters were involved, by his truthfulness to history in the setting which he gave them, and by the fidelity and animation with which he portrayed the manners of the times of which he wrote. His romances extend over the space of many centuries; yet in them all he was true to the spirit and transactions of the different periods that one may receive a far better inside knowledge of the conditions of society in the times of which he wrote than can be obtained from the most elaborate and pretentious historical compositions. It has been said that he threw such a glamour over the darkest periods that he almost "makes our hearts sigh for a return of the times which our intellects must despise." Said the celebrated Christopher North: "He was a true knight in all things, free, courteous and brave. He is the greatest of all war poets. His poetry might make a very coward fearless." His greatest praise, said the historian Alison, was that "none ever contributed more powerfully to that purification without which all other things are nugatory,—the reform of the human heart." His immeasurable superiority over all other novelists appears in the originality of his characters; in the wholesomeness of the sentiments which he makes them express; in his fidelity to truth and to morality. Coupled with all this is "a style the most copious and fascinating, illustrated with every kind of learning and ennobled with an invention which none of his contemporaries and none who have succeeded him, have ever been able to equal or approach."

It is a mooted question whether Scott's literary fame should be considered to rest rather on his poetry or on his prose, and eminent critics in discussing this point have taken different sides. It is a useless inquiry, for who would consent to do without either his poetry or his prose? We have both, and both are the delight of all who know the English tongue. Such a writer belongs to the whole world; he is as much its property as Homer or Dante, and it is quite futile to spend time in trying to place one class of his compositions above another.

There is an incident of this discussion, however, which possesses interest. Most of Scott's poetical compositions preceded his prose romances. He had written Marmion, the Lay of the Last Minstrel, the Lady of the Lake, and other poems, and their popularity was great. But at this time Lord Byron appeared, and such was the prodigious popularity of his poetry that he seemed to have soared away beyond the middle flight of all contemporaries. His praise was on every tongue. Others for the time were eclipsed and their poetry was neglected. Scott had meditated further attempts in poetic composition, but his good judgment told him to abandon them, and turn his efforts in another direction. There was a new and untrodden field, and he was the man to explore it. Then began the composition of those prose romances, that wonderful list of books, which from 'Tis Sixty Years Since, to Castle Dangerous and Count Robert of Paris, followed one another in rapid succession, showing a fertility of resources and a mine of invention which must always remain the wonder and delight of mankind. Besides these, there were other literary labors which, of themselves, would have been enough for any writer but Scott; yet such were the powers of this author that he performed labors which would have been deemed too great for any three literary men of the time. He himself tells us that he wrote his novel of Woodstock to "kill time" while he was waiting for the proofs of his Life of Napoleon,—a striking illustration of the prodigious intellectual activity of the man.

To-day in many of the cities of our own country appropriate demonstrations will be made in honor of the memory of a writer who was himself an honor to his country and to the whole human race. It is right that this should be done, in commemoration of an author whose works are fit to be both a possession and a blessing to multitudes forever.

Prospects in California.

It is claimed by the Sacramento Union of the 8th inst. that with the help of the German vote the Republican majority in the California election to take place next month will be from 6,000 to 10,000. The Union speaks with this confidence, from knowledge which it claims to have that there will be an almost unanimous German vote for the Republican ticket. It says:

We do this from the best evidences. In this city, Stockton and San Francisco, they are thoroughly organized in Republican clubs and throwing the Republican processions. In 1854 they were not as active as they are now in support of the Republicans, nor anything like it. In Sacramento there is nothing worthy the name of a German Democratic party. They are a mere shadow in the processions of that party, and their club amounts to nothing. The German talent and enthusiasm are all on the side of Newton Booth, and it is no exaggeration to say in advance that he and his ticket will receive four out of every five German votes in the State. They will give him San Francisco by 1,500 majority. They will give him Los Angeles, El Dorado, Calaveras and a dozen counties doubtful without their votes. We count on a Republican gain over the majority of 1868, from this one source, of not less than 5,000.

The Union proceeds to give the reasons for these changes on the part of the Germans. One of them it says in the well known antagonism of the Democratic party to the American common school system. Another cause is the fact that in the causeless war begun by France against Germany last year the entire Democratic party espoused the cause of France, while the Republicans sympathized with Germany and denounced the wickedness of the French attack upon her. On this point the Union says:

We do not recall a single Democratic newspaper of note, from the Atlantic to the Pacific, that was not wholly anti-German in its sympathies and protestations. We do not recall a single Republican journal that was not, from the beginning to the end of the war, in full sympathy with the German cause. What was that cause? The honest reply to this question explains the motives of both parties in America. Germany desired the consolidation of disintegrated States, and such a concentration of political powers as would insure the perpetuity of the Union. She desired this for self-protection and to avert the calamities which in 1804-1807 had been brought on all her separate States by the opposite policy. The wish could only be defeated by a wicked ambition for war and conquest, and to foreign intermeddlers. It offended France, who desired to conquer and annex German territory on the left bank of the Rhine, which would have set up a perpetual French menace against Holland and Belgium, not to say Baden and Switzerland. It was natural that the Republicans of the United States should assert the same rights for the Germans that they did for their own Union. It was according to the eternal fitness of things that the American Democracy should favor the disintegration of Germany, as it did the dissolution of the American Union. An additional motive was found in the hatred which the American Democrats bore the German race for having in such large numbers assisted the Government of the United States to put down the Great Rebellion.

Hence it is, says the Union, that the Germans are almost unanimously with the Republicans. In addition to this element of strength there is the color'd vote which numbers from 2,000 to 3,000. If these calculations are not far wrong the Republicans ought to sweep the State next month.

We are under obligations to Gen. Tilton for a finely painted and mounted map of the route of the Northern Pacific Railroad, prepared on a sufficiently large scale to show the whole route to good advantage. At a point in Montana, somewhere near Helena, the route divides into two branches, one keeping to the north and crossing the mountains at Puget Sound, and the other crossing the Bitter Root country, descending the Clearwater to Snake river, crossing that river near Lewiston and the Columbia near Wallula, and keeping on the north side of the Columbia to the Cowlitz, and thence to Puget Sound. We are sorry to say (such is our compassion for our neighbors at Puget Sound who are so sadly afflicted with terminal fever) that the route of neither branch is prolonged on this map till it reaches the Sound; so our friends over there will doubtless look at the map with disappointment and indignation. Isothermal lines are traced on this map, and the person who wishes to study the isothermal mysteries of this northern country should by all means have a copy. Until he sees the tracings he would hardly believe that the "isothermal" traveller is compelled to pursue such fantastic windings to make his annual round.

A Tribute to Judge Williams.

A great German Republican meeting was held in San Francisco on the evening of the 8th inst. Several speeches in German were made and great enthusiasm manifested. Ex-Senator Williams was present and delivered a speech which was very warmly received. Of the speech and its author the San Francisco Bulletin says:

No Senator ever sent to Congress for the Pacific coast has made a better record than ex-Senator Williams of Oregon. His speech last evening appears in full in the Bulletin this evening. It is a calm, logical way of putting the case, and so effective, without the Republican at least, will read it with great satisfaction. The doctrine of States' Rights, which hazy added the bitter fruit of a civil war, and which is even now the pet doctrine of a large element in the Democratic party, including Governor Haight, was directed of its remaining attractions and assigned its rightful place as one of the most pernicious doctrines ever put forth by any party. When a political aspirant in these times clings to such an exploded heresy, the inference is plain enough that he has not been reconstructed. That doctrine does not find a single endorser in all the host of true men who periled their lives in defense of the Union. The acknowledged departure of one party out of an old and wrong condition is of itself a confession more emphatic perhaps than was ever made by their opponents. The party which stood by the Union in the late fearful crisis and is not forced to resort to political confessional, occupies the foremost ground and ought to keep out of all swamps in the future.

The Herald, it is said, is to have a new editor from the East, and it is stated that he will be a thorough going "new departure" man. Inasmuch as the whole Democratic party of Oregon, backed by the entire press of the party (except the Herald) is against the "new departure," it may well be supposed that the new editor will not meet with a very cordial reception. The bed-rock, non-departing, hard-shell, old-inhabitant editors will be likely to make it rather hot for him.

There is more disappointment for the Democracy than Mr. Boutwell's excellent success in negotiating the new loan, thereby establishing more securely the credit of the Government and effecting a large saving by means of a lower rate of interest, is announced at a time when the whole opposition press is chuckling over the supposed "failure" of the loan. "Failure" is a favorite word with that party. The war, they thought, was a "failure."

The Democratic frauds in New York continue to be a leading subject of discussion in almost the entire newspaper press of the country. No event since the war has produced such a sensation. The Democratic organization is reeling under the blows given it, and the chances are increasing that that party will lose even the State of New York.

REMARKABLE CURE OF MRS. HOOVER.

TUALATIN PLAINS, WASHINGTON CO., OREGON, July 22, 1871.

DR. A. M. LOLIVEA—I have been troubled with Rheumatism for the past further years; my joints, especially those of my foot and hands, were badly swollen, so that I could with difficulty go around. My shoulder pained me a great deal and a large bony swelling grew out, so that I could not raise my hand to my head.

Since last spring I have been taking your "Dick Wood Remedy," and find myself much improved. The swelling and pain has left my joints and shoulder and the bony growth has entirely disappeared, and I can my limbs and am far better than I have been for years.

REV. DR. DICKSON'S SERMON.—This eminent divine delivered an address at the First Presbyterian Church on Sunday evening, to a large and intelligent audience. The visit of Rev. Dr. Dickson will necessarily result in great good to this coast, particularly Oregon.

As Secretary of the Home Mission, of one of the most wealthy and influential religious denominations—the Presbyterian—in the United States, the results of his addresses and observation cannot be to the permanent disparagement of the advancing destinies of Oregon, both religious and in a material point of view.

In his discourse on Sunday evening, he stated, to show incidentally, the wealth of the denomination to which he held a relation, that when the Old and New School united, to memorialize the event, they mutually pledged themselves to raise $5,000,000 within one year. That amount was not only raised, but an additional $5,000,000.

Alluding to the great resources of Oregon, he spoke in glowing terms of the promising future already opening out to our visions—its genial, salubrious climate, and its giant rivers, and lofty mountains. He claims for this State a future, if anything, ahead of any State or Territory on the Pacific slope. He stated that there are three great mouth-pieces to the Pacific coast—San Francisco, Columbia river and Puget Sound—the State by virtue of a favorable location occupying a central and most important position with Washington Territory on the northern, and California on the southern border. He asserted that God for some all-wise purpose did not at once give these things to the people, but allows everything to work together for the accomplishment of ulterior good, until the season was ripe, and then to throw open the door to all.

By the discovery of gold it has attracted to our shores the heathen of Asia who, in coming to search for the precious metal, find the "stream of living waters," which will be carried back by them to enlighten and christianize the pagan legions who populate the Flowery land. Now, gold is giving place to the more stable pursuits of agriculture. There are millions of acres of land unreclaimed, but rich and productive, waiting for the plowshare, and before many years will elapse our population will be computed by millions.

He stated that if the Cascade and Coast ranges of mountains extended east and west, instead of north and south, the rich and fertile valleys of our State would have been arid deserts. Judging in the course of mountain ranges, invariably east and west, he marks the universal drought, desert and desolation. The warm stream of the ocean coming from China and Japan, and bearing towards and against our shores, gives a warm wind which clothes the landscape in an emerald hue, and produces that genial, equable temperature so characteristic of the climate and not to be met with in a northern latitude. He traced the gradual march of improvement west, with its many hardships; contending against Indians, and inconvenience from markets until it brought itself to this coast, and then came the discovery of the precious metal followed by the great influx of immigration.

We are unable, for want of space, to follow Mr. Dickson through his entire discourse; but can say with an assurance of safety that he fully sustained the reputation he brought from the East, of being one of the ablest divines in the Atlantic States. At times his eloquence was brilliant and truly original.

He will address our citizens on Thursday evening of the present week in the First Presbyterian Church. All who have not enjoyed the fav

REV. DR. DICKSON'S SERMON.—This eminent divine delivered an address at the First Presbyterian Church on Sunday evening, to a large and intelligent audience. The visit of Rev. Dr. Dickson will necessarily result in great good to this coast, particularly Oregon.

As Secretary of the Home Mission, of one of the most wealthy and influential religious denominations—the Presbyterian—in the United States, the results of his addresses and observation cannot be to the permanent disparagement of the advancing destinies of Oregon, both religious and in a material point of view.

In his discourse on Sunday evening, he stated, to show incidentally the wealth of the denomination to which he held a relation, that when the Old and New School united, to memorialize the event, they mutually pledged themselves to raise $5,000,000 within one year. That amount was not only raised, but an additional $5,000,000.

Alluding to the great resources of Oregon, he spoke in glowing terms of the promising future already opening out to our visions—its genial, salubrious climate, and its giant rivers, and lofty mountains. He claims for this State a future, if anything, ahead of any State or Territory on the Pacific slope. He stated that there are three great mouth-pieces to the Pacific coast—San Francisco, Columbia river, and Puget Sound—the State by virtue of a favorable location occupying a central and most important position with Washington Territory on the northern and California on the southern border. He asserted that God for some all-wise purpose did not at once give these things to the people, but allows everything to work together for the accomplishment of ulterior good, until the season was ripe, and then to throw open the door to all.

By the discovery of gold it has attracted to our shores the heathen of Asia who, in coming to search for the precious metal, find the "stream of living waters," which will be carried back by them to enlighten and christianize the pagan legions who populate the Flowery land. Now, gold is giving place to the more stable pursuits of agriculture. There are millions of acres of land unreclaimed, but rich and productive, waiting for the plowshare, and before many years will elapse our population will be computed by millions.

He stated that if the Cascade and Coast ranges of mountains extended east and west, instead of north and south, the rich and fertile valleys of our State would have been arid desert. In Africa the course of mountains invariably run east and west, and mark the universal drought, desert and desolation. The warm stream of the ocean coming from China and Japan, and bearing towards and against our shores, gives a warm wind which clothes the landscape in an emerald hue, and produces that genial, equable temperature so characteristic of the climate and not to be met with in a northern latitude. He traced the gradual march of improvement west, with its many hardships; contending against Indians, and inconvenience from markets until it brought itself to this coast, and then came the discovery of the precious metal followed by the great influx of immigration.

We are unable, for want of space, to follow Mr. Dickson through his entire discourse; but can say with an assurance of safety that he fully sustained the reputation he brought from the East, of being one of the ablest divines in the Atlantic States. At times his remarks were brilliant and truly eloquent.

He will address our citizens on Thursday evening of the present week in the First Presbyterian Church. All who have not enjoyed the favor of hearing this eminent lecturer and orator, should avail themselves of the pleasure to be derived from listening to one of his interesting addresses. Admission, free to all.

POLICE COURT MONTHLY REPORT.—The following monthly "Exhibit" of the Police Court, Judge O. N. Denny presiding, has been kindly handed to us for publication:

Business transactions in the Police Court for the month of July, 1871: Tried 208 cases; there being two or three defendants in some of these cases, made 234 arrests made by the force, or 25 more arrests than cases tried.

Total receipts from these were $1,288, fines and costs alone.

Of this sum $1,178 was paid over to the City Treasurer, and $105 to the County Treasurer.

The expenses of the Court and officers for the month were as follows: Salary of the Chief of Police and members of the Police force, $829 39; salary of Police Judge and Clerk, $200; total, $1,028 39. Total receipts for the month, $1,178; excess over expenditures, $149 54.

These figures are complimentary to the judicious management of Judge Denny, and speak emphatically for the superior manner in which the financial affairs of the Court are manipulated. The receipts, as will be perceived at a glance, are largely in excess of the current expenses, and also in excess of the receipts of the office for any past month under the present police system. The largest amount returned yet was $731; or $447 less than the "Exhibit" of the last month shown.

THE BARK GARIBALDI.—The bark Garibaldi, Capt. Noyes, commanding, 60 days from Hongkong, reached this port yesterday afternoon. She brings 125 passengers, including seven females, and a cargo principally of rice and Chinese products, to the amount of 600 tons. The barge is consigned to Young Duck Chung. The Garibaldi sailed from Hongkong June 11; was 19 days to the Japan coast; about middle of passage had calms for five or six days; after that had strong breezes from the northward; split several sails; calmed again for four or five days; rest of passage had westerly breeze. Arrived off Columbia river bar August 8th, at 6 A. M.; stood on and off waiting for pilot until the morning of the 9th. Came up under sail to the mouth of the Willamet. Passengers and crew all well.

TWENTY MILES TO OLYMPIA.—Says the Kalama Beacon in reference to the Northern Pacific Railroad: "When the next forty-mile section is completed from Tenino river northward, the distance to the navigable waters of the Sound will be only twenty miles over a level gravel plain. The Olympia papers say that assurances have been intimated that by the fall of '72 the cars will be running from Kalama to somewhere on Puget Sound—though not probably the final terminus."

SOLD AT AUCTION.—The fixtures of the Eastern Restaurant were disposed of yesterday morning by A. B. Richardson, at Auction. We learn that the lease of the room has been sold to an agent from San Francisco, and that it is the intention of H. H. Bancroft & Co., to fit up the building with a view to the establishment of a branch house in this city.

FEAST OF THE ASSUMPTION.—The Catholic Church will celebrate the Feast of the Assumption of the Blessed Virgin to-day. Masses will be said in the Cathedral, corner of Stark and Third streets, at six, eight and ten o'clock A. M.—last being a solemn High Mass—and Vespers will be sung at eight o'clock in the evening.

BED OF MOSS AGATES.—A gentleman from the Dalles informs us that an extensive bed of fine moss agates, has recently been discovered in the vicinity of the Warm Spring Indian Reservation. The extent of the bed is not known yet, but there is little doubt as to the quality of the stone.

PEACH CROP.—We learn from Mr. Robinson, just from the Dalles, that the peach crop in that locality is considerably below the average. The cause of the partial failure is attributable to the early frosts, which materially damaged the prospects of the season.

SOCIETY MEETING.—There will be a meeting of the First Congregational Society, in the vestry of the church, on (this) Tuesday evening at eight o'clock. A full attendance is desired as business of importance will be brought before the meeting.

G STREET.—The eastern extension to this street has progressed about midway of Couch's lake. Before the closing out of street work this fall, a solid earth embankment will span the lake.

NO TRANSFERS.—Not a single deed was filed for record in the County Clerk's office yesterday, and that accounts for the entire absence of the usual list published daily.

ANKLE SPRAINED.—The West Side states that Chris. Taylor, one of the old citizens of Yamhill county, has been laid up for several days with a badly sprained ankle.

POLICE COURT.—Sunday being one of the most fruitful days for drunks and arrests, the usual quota were disposed of before Judge Denny yesterday.

STUDIES RESUMED.—Studies will be resumed at the St. Mary Academy on the 28th inst.

OREGON CITY ITEMS.—Business dull.——Woolen mill in full operation——Baptist Church fast approaching completion. It will be the greatest church in the city. Clackamas Paper Mills are running night and day——The steamers Action, Success, Reliance, and Fannie Paton are lying idle in the basin.——Trips above town are made irregularly, owing to low water.——Painters and boiler-makers are actively at work on the New Idea.——As business is light at present, it is not likely she will be put in service as early as at first anticipated. Blasting continues on the opposite side of the river. It will be a big undertaking to open the canal. Geo. Plumway, David Caufield, Col. White and Geo. Harding, after an absence of three weeks, have returned from Yaquina Bay and other points near the coast.——Noltner, of the Enterprise has gone south for a short season.——Bob Head takes charge during his absence. OREGONIAN in the ascendency.

SUNDOWNER IMPROVEMENTS.—B. F. Dowell, the old and well known journalist of this State, it appears has not lost confidence in the stability of Portland, despite the efforts being made by the editor of the Kalama Beacon to completely annihilate this place. Mr. Dowell, on his return from Washington purchased some lots in Couch's Addition, on Fourteenth street, between J and K. He is causing two very substantial dwelling houses, two stories each, with a brick foundation, to be erected on these lots. There may be an evident lack of taste in the selection of the site, but still the improvements will tend to beautify that portion of the city, and enhance the value of property adjacent. The confidence manifested by Dowell can not but prove contagious and result in good to holders of property. These houses are situated on the very outskirts of the city—literally peeping out from a mass of fallen logs and stumps, at the feet of the standing forest. Well done for Dowell say we.

A LARGE WOMAN.—There is now residing in Vancouver a married lady named Mrs. Dice, who should enjoy the reputation of being one of the largest women in the country. There are some other features connected with the history of this lady which render her none the less remarkable. She was born in 1839 in Iowa, and consequently is in her thirty-second year; was the youngest child of a family of nineteen children; when but twelve years of age she weighed 255 pounds; her weight now is 333. She emigrated to Washington Territory in an early day, where she has principally resided ever since. She is the mother of a healthy family of several children, and for one of her corpulence enjoys an unusual degree of good health. Altogether considered, this lady is a rather remarkable woman. Who says that we cannot raise large women here?

THIS SEASON'S IMPROVEMENTS.—A city contemporary says as follows in regard to the growth and improvement of this city: "Portland will advance more this year in respect to buildings, residences and business places, than it ever has in any one season. There are now several brick structures going up which would be ornaments to cities five times the size of Portland. Besides that, there are numerous frame buildings for business purposes, and any number of residences, from the stately French roof villa of the capitalist, to the more humble story and half dwelling houses of the trader or mechanic, being erected.

"THE OLD INSTITUTE."—In regard to the old Wallamet University building, the Salem Statesman speaks as follows: "This ancient building still stands a monument of the energy and wisdom of Oregon's pioneers. Age has already given it a mossy covering, and its window panes are becoming sadly rent by the beating storms of winter. But let no man hasten its fall; let it remain until Time's hand alone shall lay it low. Every college student who has sat within its walls will love to review the time-honored place and there summon from the shadowy past the joys of bygone days."

INCORRECTLY ATTRIBUTED.—In the issue of yesterday morning, in alluding to a correspondent writing for the Chicago Land Owner, from Portland, Oregon, under date of July 1st, 1871, we stated that inasmuch as the correspondent had signed himself "S.," we attributed it to "our friend Stiltzel." Subsequently we have learned that the writer is Mr. Small, a traveling correspondent of the Land Owner, New York Tribune and San Francisco Bulletin.

FOR CHICAGO.—C. W. Dean, Esq., formerly of the firm of Dean, Brosher & Fisher, real estate dealers, will start for Chicago on the first of the month. He will take with him 100 small bottles, containing samples of Oregon wheat, and so labeled. These bottles will be distributed gratuitously, and will be used in offices, etc., as paper holders—a clever and novel mode of exhibiting Oregon cereals.

NUMBER OF PUPILS.—From the catalogue of St. Helen's Hall School, we learn that the number in attendance during the year just closed was 179. This institution is under the supervision of Bishop Morris of the Episcopal Church, and is directly in charge of the Misses Rodney, with a number of competent assistant teachers.

ARRIVAL OF THE ORIFLAMME.

The N. P. T. Co.'s steamship Oriflamme, R. S. Floyd, Commander, arrived at half past five o'clock last evening, from San Francisco, August 10th. The following is her list of passengers: Hon Goo H Williams, Isaac White, Chas Lauer, Rev T Frazer wife and child, Rev W Miller wife and 2 children, Rev J K Hammond wife and child, Rev D B Gray and wife, Rev G H Marsh, W F Marsh, 2 Sisters of Charity, J D Dement, U P Upshur, A Gantley, O Hansel, O W Streeter, Miss M E Streeter, A Keefer, Mrs M Graham, Mrs R Smith and child, Mrs H S Jacobs, Mrs M W Thomas, M Gray & wife, R B Taylor wife and two children, S P Warren, A Nathan, W H Benton, Miss E Blackburn, Mrs A L Whiting and child, P E Farvelly wife and 3 children, Mrs Dr Simonton and daughter, C D Birch and wife, E F Lewis, J Reynolds, Mrs Reynolds, Mrs Thompson, W H Leigh, L Weibelm, E A Watts, Miss M Fanning, Dr S A Boon and wife, Geo D Gardner, F Post, Wm Mixon, H H Bigelow, J W Viant, F G Schwatka, G W Hume, L Babcock and son, J H Wells and wife, F Boiller, P E Bdon, Col West, W, F & Co.'s Messenger.

STEERAGE PASSENGERS.

J Kimerly, J M Burch, Ed Carr, G Sprague, P Roach, A D Meyers, J Rosenberry, J Preston, W P McCormack, Mrs Deary, Mrs Robinson, John Holt, Jas Constuton, Jno Robertson, M Ruggas and wife, J McDugal, Henry Lireg, Wm Kane, Wm Hahn, Jas Murphy, Bridget Shehus and infant, Wm Longcast, F Konda, A Tucker wife and 4 children, Jno Reynolds, M Lillus wife and child, R Hutchcroft, J Butchcroft, F T H Cook, F F Heyman, Peter Foly, Robt Johnston, Henry Allen, Jas Kuckland, Mrs McCormack, W Reich, R A Fellows, R Weaver, C McCarthy, J Wilkin, Mrs Parker, P Brennan.

PERSONAL.

Fred. G. Schwatka, just graduated at West Point, is a passenger on board the steamship Oriflamme.

M. Gray, the great music dealer of the Pacific coast arrived in this city last evening by the Oriflamme. He comes on business connected with the branch music store recently opened in this city under the directorship of Mr. DePrans.

Rev. Mr. Marsh, President of Pacific University, Forest Grove, arrived by steamer last evening from San Francisco. He has been East on business connected with the University.

Geo. P. Rowell, Esq., of the Eastern Advertising Agency, accompanied by a party of friends, went up the road yesterday to see the valley. Mr. R. returns in time to take passage on the Oriflamme for San Francisco.

AMUSEMENTS.

ONE FINE THEATER.—This place of amusement was rather sparsely attended last evening. The performance opened with "An Object of Interest," followed by "The Omnibus," and closing with the laughable Irish farce entitled "The Irish Tutor." The delineations were quite clever, and at times were enthusiastically applauded. A splendid programme is offered for this evening's entertainment.

THE EXCURSION.—The railroad excursion to Aurora on Sunday proved to be a pleasant success. A large crowd attended. No accident occurred to mar the general enjoyment of the participators, and everything passed off very pleasantly.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

DR. ABORN, an eminent physician from San Francisco, whose remarkable success in curing chronic and obstinate diseases of the eye, ear, head, throat and chest, that have for years resisted the ordinary modes of treatment, is so well known, has arrived in this city. He will be found at his room at the St. Charles Hotel, where he can be consulted by those desiring treatment. Read his advertisement elsewhere.

HARVEST HANDS.—A gentleman from up the valley informs us that great scarcity of harvest hands seems to prevail in the most extensive grain growing districts. If many who are out of employment in this city, and are complaining about there being no opportunities to find labor, would leave for those regions where hands are in demand, they would cease to be idle longer.

PASSING MIST.—People were congratulating themselves yesterday morning on the prospects of an agreeable shower, that menaced those lower regions. A few of the gentle drops of mercy came down, sufficient to lay the dust. They seemed to be decidedly "strained," as the drops dissolved themselves into an impalpable mist, and soon vanished before the scowling visage of old Sol.

RAILROAD ITEMS.—A number of Chinamen went to the front yesterday.

Twelve car loads of lumber for use on the railroad beyond Harrisburg, were taken up yesterday morning from Milwaukie.

Travelers on the railroad complain of the slow time made by the freight trains.

FOR REPAIRS.—The steamship California is now lying at her dock to await repairs. Her boilers are reported to be in want of repairs, and her machinery also. During her detention the Aussie Telfair will assume the line.

OVERLAND.—Having concluded the labors of the present M. E. Conference in this city, Bishop E. S. Janes will start immediately for Sacramento to preside at the Conference, which convenes there in a few weeks.

Help for the Nervous.

Where is it to be found? cries the trembling victim of nervous debility. Not in the tavern dram: that fires up the circulation for a moment, and is succeeded by a collapse. Not in purgative pills or a Lenten diet, but in an invigorant and restorative in which the tonic elements are united with gentle aperient and alterative properties. When Hostetter's Stomach Bitters was introduced nearly twenty years ago, this important object was first attained. This powerful and active vegetable specific is as justly celebrated for its cures of nervous diseases, as for the absolute certainty with which it relieves dyspepsia and biliousness. The hot weather toward the close of summer generally aggravates diseases of a nervous type, creating a degree of feebleness which is beyond measure distressing. Under such circumstances rally the bodily energies with a course of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. Of all tonics, it is the most satisfactory in its operations, and the least exciting. It braces the nerves up to their natural tension, but not beyond it, so there is no reaction. It has other properties however, than those of a nervine and as a blood depurent and moderate aperient, is superior to any other medicine of the day.

Fraud, however, is on the alert. The celebrity of the original medicine has given rise to scores of counterfeits and imitations. Examine the label, and the fac simile of the signature of the firm; see that the spelling is all correct; and thus make sure of the genuineness of the article you buy. P. S.—Hostetter's Bitters are never sold in kegs or barrels, but in bottles only.

Jewish Protest.

The Jewish Messenger publishes a protest against the action of the recent Rabbinical Conference at Cincinnati being taken as representative of any branch of genuine Judaism. It is signed by Dr. Alder and others, concludes with the resolutions declaring:—

First—That the God of the Bible is not "the substance of nature," not identical with nature, but "a personal God," the Creator and Governor of the universe, infinitely exalted above the same, "looking down upon heaven and earth," and that whoever teaches the existence of an impersonal God has ipso facto renounced Judaism.

Second—That interpolation of the idea of an impersonal God into the Bible is an infamous falsification of the Divine word.

Third—That in its records of revelation, in its entire literature and history, Judaism teaches divine grace and mercy, and, consequently, holds out pardon and forgiveness to the repentant sinner, and that a denial of this fact is a slander upon Judaism.

Fourth—That a conference which grants seat and voice in a committee for the preparation of a prayer book to a man who, in accordance with his notion of God, stigmatizes prayer as an absurdity, condemns, by this very action, itself and its work.

HOW TO GROW THIN.—Fat people will be interested to know that Dr. David, of Paris, a "professional emaciator," prescribes a treatment which is intended to diminish embonpoint without injuring the health. He directs the patient to live principally on meat, eating little else, and drinking as little as possible. Vegetables, soups, puddings, tarts, fruits, bread, cakes in their protean forms, have carbon and oxygen for their principal bases, and water is the protoxide of hydrogen; all of which substances are the elements of fat. The principal base of meat is azote or nitrogen, which does not enter into the composition of fat, hence lean meat is a good diet for the aspirant after leanness. Carnivorous animals are never corpulent, and pigs are fattened by meal, vegetables and milk, rather than with meat. The smallest possible quantity of liquid is an indispensable condition. It is said that a barber who was at first so fat he could not walk or lie down, was enabled to lose 40 pounds in three months, and to diminish his abdominal equator by 40 centimetres. The treatment prescribed for him was beefsteak or cutlet, a cup of coffee and a very small quantity of vegetables; for dinner, plenty of meat, and little else; and a bottle or a bottle and a half of liquid per day.

Finance and Commerce.

Bark Garibaldi arrived to-day with cargo and passengers from China.

Steamer Orifiamme arrived to-day from San Francisco with cargo of assorted merchandise and passengers for California. She came in too late to make out her clearance. She sails for San Francisco on Thursday, August 17th.

Business to-day has been unusually dull, with little being transacted in any lines, but then Monday is commercial circle's always known as "Blue Monday."

To show how prolific is the soil of Oregon when properly cultivated, we give the following, as it is vouched for: Mr. John Gramsley, of North Yamhill, owned 21 acres of land in wheat, the yield of which was 900 bushels; an average of 45½ bushels to the acre. The yield of his oats was 60 bushels to the acre. We do not claim for all of Oregon as large an average yield as the above, but we do claim this, that when the land is properly farmed the yield will be near the amount above named. To be properly farmed, all wheat should be sown in the fall. In California they are adopting nearly altogether summer fallowing, and find that they are more than repaid in so doing.

The movements of shipping in San Francisco are as follows: The ship Nonpareil is loading or engaged to load for seven vessels with wheat for England, two with flour for China; six with lumber, and three with railroad ties for South America, Mexico and Society Islands; two with coal and one with ballast. Total, thirty. There are but seventeen vessels chartered, aggregating 11,800 tons; the thirty-seven vessels aggregate 24,400 tons. This showing does not speak well for foreign shipments of wheat so far, from San Francisco. There seems to be the same dimculty met with there as here—farmers asking too much for their wheat. Gradually the ships are being taken to load with cargoes for other ports than England. Although we do not pretend to advise our farmers, but at the same time in a business point of view it is better to meet the market by selling part of the crop, if not all, paying obligations, if any incurred, and not put the money out at interest, at 1 per cent per month together with the little additional expenses, impossible to be rid of when storing, course it to count up quite rapidly. Experience in the California market has demonstrated the fact that when farmers turn speculators by holding for higher prices instead of meeting the market when they come sell at a fair margin above cost, have in the end been losers. And this is not only the case in the California market but also in the markets East. We will have further to say on this subject soon.

In the issue of August 10th, in remarking upon the rapid increase of Portland's trade, we made no mention of the increase in business with Eastern Oregon and Washington Territory. The O. S. N. Co. by a wise system of policy, lowered the tariff on produce coming down the Columbia river to such rates as allows farming on an extensive scale in the rich agricultural land in the valleys east of the Cascades. Heretofore the only market obtainable for produce was Idaho and parts of Montana; but in both these Territories there are valleys where they raise large crops of grain, and grist mills have been erected for reducing wheat to flour, thus supplying in a great measure the wants of these Territories. The high tariff on produce coming down the river has not until this spring, owing to the advance in flour, allowed shipments to any extent to this market; but the lowering of freight will give an additional stimulus to farming in Eastern Oregon and Washington Territory.

There are at the lowest estimate 20,000,000 acres of land, rich agricultural land, which can be placed under cultivation and the crop sold or shipped of this market. This estimate does not include agricultural land so remote from present shipping points as to make it impossible to raise grain at prices in any manner remunerative to the producer, but which will be sooner or later cultivated, as the railroad system of the Northwest, now in its infancy, will penetrate all sections, where grain can be raised—thus bringing in several million acres more of land to be farmed, the product of which will seek Portland for a market. The wise policy of the O. S. N. Co. will result in not less than 1,000,000 acres being put in cultivation in Eastern Oregon and Washington Territory within the next three years, giving a yield of not less than 20,000,000 bushels of produce. To provide this amount there will be added many thousands to the population there, who will draw their supplies from this city. The land east of the Cascades is not only adaptable to cultivation of grain but is peculiarly adapted to the cultivation of grapes. The soil and climate combine to make the yield very profitable. To show the importance of this branch of industry we need but give last year's yield of wine in California to show its great importance there, and what it can be made here east of the Cascades. The estimated wine crop of three counties of California, which does not include one of the largest, Los Angeles, or indeed any of the Southern counties, places the yield last year as follows: Sonoma county, 850,200 gallons; Napa, 311,600 gallons; San Joaquin, 41,600 gallons. Total 1,203,200 gallons. This does not include the tons grapes sold, or for the new branch of industry—making raisins. The total estimate as given above it is claimed is too small even for these three counties by several hundred thousand gallons. To give take a more correct idea of the value of the vine to California as a source of wealth, we will state that there are several large wine houses doing business in San Francisco engaged exclusively in selling and exporting California wines, whose annual business amounts to several millions of dollars each. Cannot some of our farmers east of the Cascades be induced to embark extensively in this branch of industry? It only requires three or four years after planting to yield largely, and then the profit commences.

Merchandise Report.

FLOUR—The market is inactive. Outside of a few local orders nothing doing. We quote rates for standard brands from $6@6 50 ₩ bbl for extra. In superfine no change as yet. The mail to San Francisco by advices per telegraph to-day states that market is firm under improved order from China. The kind sent to China is superfine. No advance to prices there.

MIDDLINGS—Sales to-day in lots at $40 ₩ ton.

HAY—We note sales to-day at $18 ₩ ton.

OATS—Sales to-day in lots at 62½@65c ₩ bushel in sacks.

POTATOES—Stock on hand good, with diminished demand at unchanged rates.

RICE—We note sales to-day in lots of No. 1 at 8c. The Garibaldi brought 14,216 mats.

WHEAT—Advices by telegraph to-day state that prices are firm in San Francisco. This is no doubt occasioned by local demand from millers who are probably again filling orders for China, as there is no news from England to justify a shipping demand. The receipts so far in San Francisco has not been one-half what it was last year at this time, but it is no doubt occasioned by several vessels loading in Oakland this year. Prices here have undergone no change. We quote price here at $1 ₩ bushel.
